'Parking in Ely should not be free'

JORDAN DAY

EAST Cambridgeshire District Council would not be in the "sticky financial situation" it is in if car parking charges had been introduced last year.

That's the message from Conservative Cllr Peter Moakes – the former leader of the authority – who resigned last Thursday.

Cllr Moakes, who represented Sutton ward but lives in Ely, says he resigned because he does not agree with radical restructure plans at the council, which could see around 25 redundancies being made.

But he also says the district, and Ely in particular, should "stop using free parking as its main selling point" and that charges should have been introduced.

He said: "Ely is a tourist destination with a beautiful cathedral and riverside. People should be paying to park here.

RESIGNED: Cllr Peter Moakes

"The council needs to stop using free parking as its main selling point – we have much better things to shout about.

"Introducing car parking charges would have prevented the council from being in the sticky financial situation it is now in.

"It would bring in around £300,000 a year, which would have made a significant difference to the budget and indeed jobs."

The proposed restructure is being led by council leader James Palmer, who admits the changes are "radical" but insists they will be "change for the better".

But Cllr Moakes says the restructure is being "handled in the wrong way". He said: "I've resigned because I don't agree with the restructure.

"I don't agree with taking out the tier of senior management, who are all members of staff who have years of experience. I think they should be taking jobs from the bottom up.

"I've been at the council for seven years and was leader for two of those. I do feel a bit sad to go but in some ways I don't. I feel like I have achieved more than most have. I have brought forward four masterplans, which has led to projects such

FACE PAINTING: At Little Downham at the weekend

Having a flipping good time!

FAMILIES had a flipping marvellous time in Little Downham at the weekend.

A 'Great Pancake Day' event was held at the village hall on Sunday which included novel games such as 'volley pancake' and family pancake races.

Alan Moser-Bardouleau cooked and served pancakes to visitors, helped by Audrey Glover and Peggy Rose.

Jeanette Moser-Bardouleau painted children's faces throughout the afternoon and Paul and Patti Quant organised the pancake games and races.

The event was also raising money for the village hall refurbishment fund.

Firms fall foul of planning law

TWO firms have had to apply for retrospective planning permission after building on land without permission.

JORDAN DAY

Five rows of solar panels have been installed at Mingay Farm in Twentypence Road, Wilburton, without planning permission in place.

And, in a separate incident, an aluminium framed warehouse has been built by JDR Cables Ltd in Wisbech Road, Littleport.

Both firms have now submitted retrospective planning applications to the district council.

In a statement to the council, the solar farm's agents, said: "The solar panels were installed during 2011 following the granting of planning permission.

"However, a subsequent design change to the scheme layout altered the position and spacing of some of the solar panels, resulting in five rows of the panels being installed outside of the original red line area.

"This application seeks to remedy that situation and extend the permission to encompass the relocated rows of panels.

"The original scheme was supported by the planning authority, who have also recently granted permission for an extension to the scheme to the south of this application area."

In their statement, JDR Cables' agents said: "This is a retrospective application for an existing warehouse which is currently being used to increase the amount of products that can be stored on site.

"The additional storage space has allowed this thriving business to expand.

"The building has already been constructed on site and is currently occupied and in use."

The council has the power to reject a retrospective application, which could see the developer being made to remove whatever has been built.

New school is the focus of public exhibition

ELY'S new primary school will be the subject of another public exhibition next week.

Residents and prospective parents will be able to share their views on the design proposals of the new school for North Ely at the exhibition on Tuesday, March 18.

Cambridgeshire County Council's education officers are running the event at Highfield School, in Downham Road, from 4.30-7.30pm.

A council spokesman said: "The team would welcome your views on the draft proposals as part of the ongoing development of the scheme, ahead of submission of a formal planning application." The school will take its first pupils in September 2014 as for the first year it will operate from Ely St Mary's Junior School, before moving to the north of the city the next September.

as the North Ely development, the Ely Station Gateway project and the southern bypass making major progress, and for all that I do feel extremely proud."

Cllr Palmer, who represents Soham North ward, said parking charges would "not solve the council's troubles" and said it is not fair for shopkeepers and residents to be "burdened with an extra tax".

He said: "I'm quite surprised that Peter has resigned. Approximately two weeks ago he voted in favour of the restructure at our Conservative party meeting so I'm not sure what has made him change his mind.

"Peter has been a very good councillor and a very active party member, and I have always had a lot of respect for him."

Speaking about the proposed restructure, Cllr Palmer said: "The moment I took over from Peter as leader I recognised there was a desperate need to make immediate changes, mainly to make the council more efficient as an organisation, none of which are ever going to be easy."

The process for a by-election for the Sutton ward will now begin.

CYCLE MANIA: Witchford Village College pupils Luke Alger and Shannon Pollard get up close to the trophy

Grand Depart trophy in town!

AN air of excitement gripped the Ely area when the official Grand Départ – the trophy for the Le Tour de France – came to the city.

Ely might have missed out on being included in the Le Tour De France route when it travels through Cambridgeshire this summer but people were able to get into the spirit of the legendary cycle race by getting up close to the trophy.

The trophy, which is commissioned by the Amaury Sport Organisation (ASO), who organise Le Tour de France, was at Ely Cathedral on Thursday afternoon, where visitors were able to pose alongside it for pictures.

Throughout the day, the trophy was also at Witchford Village College – East Cambridgeshire's specialist sports college – where students and staff enjoyed an action-packed day of sports-related activities to celebrate hosting it.

Lesley Ann Thompson, a spokeswoman for Ely Cathedral, said: "We were honoured to be asked to display the trophy inside the cathedral as part of its tour around the county."

Three new properties earmarked for site

THREE new homes could be built on land at the rear of a bungalow in Ely.

Number 110, West Fen Road, has had a chequered past over the years as up until last year it was being used as a drugs den.

The bungalow was at the centre of a major police investigation and was eventually shut down last May after magistrates granted a closure order – banning the residents, and any of their associates, from returning to the property.

The property has since been extensively renovated and is now owned by Mr J Godfrey.

Mr Godfrey has applied to East Cambridgeshire District Council for planning permission to build three new dwellings at the rear of the bungalow.

In a statement to planners, his architects, Greg Saberton Design, said: "My client is looking to construct three detached dwellings to the rear of his bungalow.

"The existing building has no significance in the street scene. Because it is set back from the main road and screened by planting, it is often missed when driving by and my client's proposals will hardly be visible from the main road.

"It is felt that the proposed dwellings will not affect any of the neighbouring properties and will not harm the character or appearance of the listed buildings."

A decision is expected within eight weeks. Visit www.eastcambs.gov.uk to have your say.

Anger over Asda's open-all-hours bid

A SUPERMARKET giant's plans to serve alcohol until midnight – seven days a week – are proving contentious among residents.

JORDAN DAY

Asda announced it would be taking over the Budgens store in Clay Street, Soham, earlier this year – a move which has been largely welcomed by local people.

But news that bosses want the store to open from 6am-12am Monday to Sunday – and serve alcohol throughout that period – have been criticised by families who live near to the store.

Budgens is currently open from 7am-9pm on weekdays and from 10am-4pm on Sundays.

Nobody from Asda was available to comment on the application but objections have already been lodged with the council.

Geoffrey Woollard, of St Andrew's Park, located just a stone's throw away from the store, has objected.

He said: "My wife and I are near neighbours of the soon-to-be Asda store and we object to both proposals on the grounds that we will be adversely affected by them and that our home could be devalued.

"We moved here during the summer past. We moved in full knowledge of the existence of the Budgens store, which we now patronise on a daily basis, and we moved here in the further knowledge that the owners of Budgens had applied for and had obtained planning consent for a major extension of the store.

"None of the foregoing caused us concern, however, we are most definitely concerned at the latest development.

"It is my opinion that extended licensing hours for the sale of alcohol through the soon-to-be Asda store are likely to exacerbate late-night crime and disorder, could threaten public safety, will cause a public nuisance and may prove a danger to children."

Another resident, who did not wish to be named, said: "The proposed opening hours are far too late for a supermarket which is slap bang in the middle of a town.

"This is not a store which is on the outskirts of Soham – it's in the town centre and is close to people's homes and community buildings, including numerous churches.

"I will be objecting and I hope the council considers what impact these hours could have on people's everyday lives."

Residents have until Wednesday, March 26 to have their say on the licensing application.

To comment, visit the council offices in Nutholt Lane, Ely, call (01353) 665555 or visit www.eastcambs.gov.uk.

PLAYTIME: Improvement work at Wilburton playground has started

Work on playground gets under way

A CHILDREN'S playground is being given a new lease of life.
Builders moved onto the play area in Wilburton on Friday – much to the joy of local people.
The Wilburton Playground Working Group was set up in November 2012 by a group of residents determined to improve children's play facilities in the village.
After extensive public consultation, the group secured a grant from the AmeyCespa Community Fund for £36,000, plus the project was the main beneficiary of last year's Wilburton Beer Festival.
As a result, work has now started on building new toddler play facilities, which the village currently does not have, at the playground.
The group hopes to secure more funding later in the year to enable the second part of the project – installing new junior play equipment – to get under way.

Visitor centre plans approved

A FORMER aircraft engineer's dreams of opening a First World War visitor centre are a step closer to reality.

JORDAN DAY

Kev Smith, from Haddenham, has been searching the Cambridgeshire and Suffolk countryside high and low over the last two years to find a suitable location to build the specialist visitor centre.

He and his team of co-directors at Khaki Devil Limited, a company which supplies military uniforms, equipment and historical advice for film and television productions, eventually came across land in the small village of Hawstead, near Bury St Edmunds.

Plans were drawn up, submitted to St Edmundsbury Borough Council and have now been unanimously approved.

Mr Smith, 56, whose grandfather fought in The Great War and was killed driving a tank in 1918, said: "We are delighted. The search for a site was not easy but this location could not be better; sitting in a peaceful river valley, a long way from busy roads, with nothing modern to spoil the view.

"The extensive trench network we are planning runs through meadow and woodland, very reminiscent of famous Great War battlefields such as Sanctuary Wood, or Thiepval Wood."

The visitor centre will be the first of its kind in the East of England, and will boast a café, shop and picnic area.

Mr Smith said: "We want to create a safe, purpose built, permanent resource that will both educate and inspire adults and children.

"It will be a place for quiet reflection and learning with 11 replica army huts containing engaging displays and exhibitions.

"There will be no noisy battle reenactments, as we consider them to be in bad taste in such an environment but there will be plenty of opportunity for visitors to gain hands-on experience with the uniforms and equipment of the time."

The first phase of the visitor centre is scheduled to open next spring.

Police's fuel scheme gives charity a boost

A LOCAL charity has received new gaming equipment thanks to a fuel scheme run by Cambridgeshire Constabulary.

The equipment - an iPod dock, iPod Nano, Xbox Console and Xbox Kinect - has been given to Community Carts, based in Witchford.

The items were purchased thanks to a fuel card scheme run by Pc Steve Hinks, in which police vehicles using filling stations in Cambridgeshire can collect Nectar points at BP as well as Texaco, Shell, Tesco, Sainsbury's and Morrison's stores reward schemes.

When enough points are accrued Pc Hinks uses them to buy items for good causes.

Pc Hinks said: "The fuel card scheme is an ideal way of putting something back into the community. These items will really help this local youth club and will be used by the kids in East Cambs.

"There are police charity cards at Nectar BP and Sainsbury's and Tesco filling stations, along with charity cards held at Shell and Texaco, so any members of the public who don't collect points themselves are welcome to donate them to us."

Move over Crufts... here come the cats

A RECORD-BREAKING sum was raised for Ely and District Cats Protection at this year's show.

The branch held its ever-popular annual show at Little Downham Village Hall on Saturday.

A total of 34 felines of all shapes and sizes strutted their stuff before the judges, with the Best in Show Pedigree prize going to a blue Rex female cat called Mishka, from Willingham.

Judges awarded the Best in Show non-pedigree prize to a blue and white coloured female cat called Lexi, who lives with her owners in Little Downham and was re-homed through the branch.

A male Bengal cat called Fen, also from Little Downham, scooped the Best Kitten award.

The show is also a great way for the branch to try and find homes for some of the moggies in its care and eight out of 16 cats which were taken along on the day managed to secure homes.

Linda Hutchinson, manager of the branch, said: "We had an absolutely fantastic show.

"We were a little down on entry numbers but we managed to raise £1,200 on the day which is the most we've ever raised.

"So many members of the public came along which was brilliant and we managed to find homes for eight cats."

As ever, the branch is always at bursting point with cats seeking new homes.

Film stars head to Ely cathedral

MOVIE fans are hoping to catch a glimpse of Hollywood stars Michael Fassbender and Marion Cotillard in Ely next week.

JORDAN DAY

Scenes of the hugely-anticipated new film adaptation of William Shakespeare's tragedy, Macbeth, are being shot at Ely Cathedral – and filming gets under way on Thursday, March 20.

The film stars are Oscar-nominated Irish-German actor Michael Fassbender and French actress Marion Cotillard, and according to the Casting Network Ltd, the Surrey-based firm appointed to recruit extras for the film, Fassbender will definitely be at the cathedral.

Speaking to Ely News exclusively last month, Lesley Gogarty, the casting firm's director, said: "Banquet scenes for Macbeth are being filmed inside the cathedral's Lady Chapel from Thursday, March 20 to Saturday, March 22.

"Fassbender is definitely appearing in those scenes and it is highly likely that Cotillard will be too."

The film is being directed by Justin Kurzel and it is the seventh time the cathedral has been used as a movie location.

Hundreds of extras were required to feature in the film, although because it is set in Scotland in medieval times, the criteria was quite strict, including the need for men to have a full beard and women to have very long, natural coloured hair.

A spokesman for Casting Network Ltd said that all roles had been filled but said he was unable to confirm how many, if any, had been secured by local people. A spokeswoman for the cathedral said she was unable to comment on the filming due to confidentiality agreements.

The filming comes just months after scenes for blockbuster Jupiter Ascending, starring Mila Kunis and Channing Tatum, were filmed at the cathedral.

Fassbender earned a 2014 Academy Award nomination for his role as slave owner Edwin Epps in 12 Years a Slave.

Cotillard has starred in a whole host of films, including La Vie en Rose, The Immigrant and Furia.

Station Gateway consultation is ending soon

RESIDENTS and organisations have just over a week to have their say on major plans to transform Ely's Station Gateway area.

The draft Ely Station Gateway Supplementary Planning Document (SPD) is currently subject to an eight-week public consultation, which ends on Friday, March 21.

The draft proposals currently include creating a minimum of 800 new jobs, building approximately 400 new homes, as well as new retail units, a new public transport interchange at the railway station, public open space and car parking facilities.

We should all be concerned

MR FARLEY has every right to feel concerned about the motives of Cllr Palmer and the direction he has in mind for the future of East Cambridgeshire District Council.
His letter (Ely News, February 27th) highlights the anxieties everybody should have about what is happening to the authority and the level of service it intends to provide for the community.
Under the current regime even councillors are having difficulty in gaining access to information on the radical ideas being implemented by the Chief Executive. Had it not been for the pressure from a number of councillors outside the Tory elite, others would have been excluded from the intentions being proposed by the £30,000 Deep Dive review. As it was, those outside this exclusive circle were only provided with a short briefing of the consultant's proposals two days prior to a meeting that would have a profound effect on the council's financial commitments.
Mr Farley is correct in his assumption that current policy is created from the vision of a minority, and nourished by a warped ideology that the council has to become more commercialised. A concept totally alien to the public sector ethos of providing services for the benefit of the community.
Cllr Palmer believes his radical plans will provide the silver bullet that will cure all the council's financial ills.
In essence he is merely repeating the same activity implemented by his predecessor in the root and branch review undertaken four years ago which claimed then to be the way forward but has patently proved ineffective. These latest proposals will likewise do little to provide a sustainable future when the grandiose vanity projects being pursued by Cllr Palmer and his supporters continue to fritter away money.
However, with the traits of those in control there is little prospect of a "Road to Damascus" conversion from what they intend to do.
They are consumed by their own passion, even if it is flawed and to the detriment of the community.
Regrettably, Mr Farley and the electorate will have to wait a further year for any opportunity to voice a judgment on what is happening.
Cllr Neil Morrison
Littleport West Ward

We deserve better from the PO

ELY still wants a Post Office but the Post Office does not appear to want Ely. Since November the post office's portable building has occupied a dozen spaces in the Paradise car park and they have secured (retrospective) permission to stay there until March. The loss of parking has not been at all convenient but now they want to remain there until May; the Post Office has been warned that there will be a "sharp increase" in rent if they wish to extend their stay any further.
During the summer an NHS mammography caravan comes to Ely for cancer screening, and this is usually placed in the Paradise car park, in the space now occupied by the temporary post office.
This treatment is an insult to the city and our 18,000 citizens deserve better. When Gary Herbert, Senior External Stakeholder Manager East for the Post Office, spoke to the City Council, he referred to the extra footfall that would come to a business prepared to include post office facilities within its premises, while bemoaning government imposed restrictions on the post office; from his point of view a Crown Post Office was not an option.
Surely the delay in finding a suitable partner, and the planned expansion of Ely should suggest this is the only realistic and lasting answer. Post Office publicity describes itself as "a thriving business with a strong public purpose" – now let them show us what that means.

A load of old cobbles . . .

THE cyclists are up in arms as they have to ride over cobbles (Ely News, March 6).
Now I am a bit of an old timer and I used to ride my bike all around there, way back in the 1950s.
But in the 1950s it was a two-way traffic system; past the Cathedral and then the road went past the Cathedral west door. But it was made a one-way system and the frontage of the Cathedral was brought forward and road was altered and cobbles were laid to be in keeping with the Cathedral.
This was about 60 years ago, and there have been no complaints about these cobbles all this time. So what's all the fuss about? Are they using this a race track – who can get down the Gallery the quickest? I have never known anyone fall off their cycle past the Cathedral in 60 years and the council is quite right not to spend money when the road is in good condition and in keeping with the area.
What these cyclists should be doing is teaching people in their clubs where and when to ride bikes – not down one-way streets the wrong way which some do very often and not riding on pathways in the city centre and weaving in and out through the Cloisters.
It's the same old story: out of my way, I am a cyclist, I go where I like and to hell with the law.
It would be very nice to see cyclists at night with lights on their bikes, back and front.
Cyclists of today think they are above the law.

Let's fight bypass plan now

I AGREE wholeheartedly with Clive Porter's letter (Bypass is excuse for retail park, March 6).
The proposed Ely 'bypass' scheme is a Trojan horse for new 'development' (sic.) which threatens to destroy the unique character of Ely.
If the out of town 'retail park' being planned goes ahead, it will uglify the place, generate lots of new traffic movements, and destroy many small shops and other key elements of the local economy.
It's not too late to stop this. As Mr Porter says: let's campaign against it. Before it is too late. For if you get (over-)developed, there's no going back.

We must not return to hunting

THERE is talk today of watering down – by means of a 'Statutory Instrument' – the provisions of the Hunting Act 2004 (which made fox hunting, hare coursing, etc illegal).
This Act was passed with support from all parties and, if anything, it needs strengthening, not watering down.
To water it down by the means talked of is yet another shifty move by the shifty elements of this ConDem government.
It and they must be resisted. I and millions of others will resist it and them.
I might add that, as is well-known, I write as a farmer and as a born-and-bred countryman.

Your community needs you!

THE Field Theatre Group is planning a series of commemorative events in Littleport to mark the centenary of the outbreak of the First World War. We are planning a wide range of events running throughout the village during October and November 2014. As this is a once-in-a-hundred-years opportunity to commemorate the Littleport Fallen we want to make these events memorable and moving. We have already planned the following:
1. Work with Littleport Primary School pupils to create a tribute in writing and art pieces.
2. A public art, poetry and photographic exhibition.
3. A Show and Share event, where community members will be able to display their own WW1 family photographs and memorabilia.
4. A themed fete with WW1 soldiers, music and fancy dress competition.
These are just some of the ideas.
We would like to invite all members of the community (individuals as well as groups) to join with us to make this centenary season a very special one. We need volunteers to help with planning, research, fundraising and ideas, as well as practical support with areas such as stewarding, front of house and refreshments. There are many exciting ways for you all to bring your talents and expertise to this endeavour.
In exchange you will have the opportunity to learn new skills and make new friends and have the satisfaction of taking part in a memorable tribute to the Littleport Fallen.

REVIEW: by Rosemary Westwell

'The Phantom of the Opera' – A Viva Youth Production at The Brook Soham, Thursday 6th March

Viva Youth never ceases to amaze me. Although they are 'amateur' performers, there was nothing 'amateurish' about the production I saw.
It was fantastic – every bit as good as the London production I had seen previously. Even more so, these performers have a special freshness and vitality that is often missing from the more commercially-driven enterprises in the big cities.
With the theatre decorated appropriately, we were immediately made to feel that we were part of the production, sitting in furnished seats, decorative lighting above.
The story progressed wonderfully, creating spine-chilling moments that contrasted well with episodes of poignant, impassioned romance. One of the highlights for me was the duet between Christine and Raoul. It was unforgettable.

Duncan Earlam as the Phantom was a great substitute for Michael Crawford. His powerful voice with its seductive nuances and his creepy actions trying to seduce the innocent Christine made his part come alive. Lauriane Borde was a superb Christine, her beautiful voice rising splendidly to those chilling high notes, the emotions of her impossible situation always present. Ben Clerk as Raoul was also fantastic. His mature rich tone and authentic role-play were unsurpassable. Another splendid performer was Laura Day as the spiteful Diva Carlotta. She managed to alter her wonderful voice just enough to give it that shrill edge that befitted Carlotta exactly. Charlie Gillet made a delightfully entrenched Italian opera singer as Piangi, and Lee Sharwood (Firmin) and Phil Evans (Andre) were deliciously gung-ho, insensitive new owners. There was no nonsense from Madam Giry played by Ellie Bovingdon and Rebecca Storey gave the character of Meg genuine credibility and substance.

The large ballet chorus and ensemble enhanced the production with well-focused and tuneful voices, managing faultlessly some very tricky passages. The choreography, as expected, was excellent too. Much of the atmosphere was created by the superb band of musicians who tackled this mammoth, challenging score effortlessly and the long list of the crew, led by Producer and Director Dan Schumann, are to be congratulated for an amazing West End type production.

We look forward to their next production which will be 'Les Miserables' in July. It should be well worth attending!

Young artists' work to go on show in spring exhibition

BUDDING ARTISTS: From King's Ely Senior are exhibiting their work to the public

TALENTED young artists are showcasing their work to the public in Ely.

Paintings, sculptures, fashion designs and photographs by some of the most talented King's Ely Senior students will be on display during the school's annual Spring Art Exhibition.

The exhibition is being held at the school's art department, which is accessible via The Gallery, from Saturday, March 15 through to Friday, March 28.

Director of Art at King's, Alison Rhodes, said: "The exhibition will display highly original outcomes, covering the specialist areas of fashion and textiles, fine art, sculpture and photography."

The exhibition, which is open to the public, will be open Monday to Saturday and entry is free.

Inquest held into death of crash victim Jack, 18

JORDAN DAY

AN inquest has been held into the death of a popular teenager involved in a car crash just hours after finishing his final A-level exam.

The inquest into the death of 18-year-old Jack Ure, a former Ely Sixth-Form College student, heard that he was not wearing a seatbelt at the time.

Jack, who lived with his parents, Tony and Emma, and sister, Lucy, in Little Downham, was driving a Renault Clio which collided with a Mercedes and a Land Rover at the bridge in Sandhill, Littleport.

The accident happened on June 20 – just hours after Jack had finished his final A-level exam.

His friends William Harrison and Joseph Deverell were front and rear seat passengers, respectively, in the vehicle.

Giving evidence at the inquest, held last Wednesday, Mr Harrison said: "Jack did slow down as we approached the junction. I saw a black car coming towards us from the right.

"Jack pulled out. I don't feel he looked properly. I knew the black car was going to hit us."

The inquest heard that there were three separate collisions; the first being the Renault and the Mercedes, the second being the Land Rover, which was approaching the junction from the left, and the Renault, and the third being the Land Rover and the Mercedes.

TRAGIC: Jack Ure, 18, was killed in the collision just hours after completing his final A-level exam

Both the driver of the Mercedes, Margaret Raines, and the driver of the Land Rover, Mark Gilbert, who both sustained injuries in the collision, gave evidence at the inquest.

Pc Peter Bimson, a specialist collision investigator for Cambridgeshire Police, said examinations of the Renault showed that both Jack and Joseph had not been wearing a seatbelt.

He added: "My examination concluded that the Renault failed to give way at the junction and commenced to turn right into the path of the Mercedes."

A post mortem revealed there were traces of cannabis in Jack's blood, which police suggested, although could not confirm, had been ingested in the 24 hours leading up to the crash.

Mr Bimson said: "It is not known to what extent Jack's use of cannabis may have been a factor in this collision."

Coroner William Morris recorded a verdict that Jack died as a result of a road traffic collision.

As previously reported, the junction where Jack died is set to be made safer this summer thanks to a petition launched by one of his best friends, Courtney Pettifor.

Auditions for Viva's latest show kick off next week

SOHAM'S award-winning Viva Youth Theatre Group has announced its next production will be 'Les Miserables School Edition'.

The group has just staged sell-out performances of 'The Phantom of the Opera' but is already gearing up for the next show, which will run from July 13-19.

A spokeswoman said: "We are very excited to announce our summer project - Les Miserables School Edition. Whether you are interested in taking to the stage or backstage in costumes, props or makeup we need you."

Auditions are being held on Thursday, March 20 from 7-9.30pm and on Sunday, March 23 from 3-7pm. Call (01353) 722 228 for more information.

Choristers join forces for a concert to remember

HISTORY will be made this Saturday when boy choristers from three of East Anglia's most significant cathedrals come together to sing as one choir.

A concert, called 'Mixing their Music', will see the choristers from Ely Cathedral's choir joined by choristers from Bury St Edmunds and Chelmsford cathedrals under Ely Cathedral's Octagon.

The concert's programme will include the pop-style Cantata, 'Captain Noah and his Floating Zoo', alongside other popular choral classics including Franck's Panis Angelicus.

It starts at 7pm and tickets are £15, or £7.50 for concessions. Call (01353) 660349 for tickets or more information.

Matt's gift to say thank you

A MAN who is lucky to be alive after contracting a deadly illness while abroad has thanked the experts who treated him with a bumper donation.

JORDAN DAY

Matt Wilson, 54, suddenly fell ill around two weeks after he returned home from a bird spotting trip to the jungles of Borneo and Thailand last July.

Mr Wilson, who lives with his partner, Claire Halley, in Soham, was rushed to Addenbrooke's Hospital where he spent a week in the Intensive Care Unit (ICU) in an induced coma.

But things went from bad to worse as both his kidneys and his liver failed, his lungs started to fill with fluid and his heart started to beat irregularly, culminating in brain seizures whilst in a coma.

Mr Wilson was moved to the hospital's infectious diseases ward, D10 Ward, where he spent a further two weeks before he was finally able to be discharged from hospital at the end of July.

It was initially thought he had Dengue Fever, which is a common viral infection spread my mosquitoes, but doctors later confirmed he had Leptospirosis, which is usually caught from the presence of rat urine in water.

The fact that Mr Wilson has an underlying muscle condition called myositis, the treatment for which suppresses the immune system, meant diagnosis was difficult.

Mr Wilson is a member of the Campaign for Real Ale (CAMRA) and an organiser of the annual Ely Winter Beer Festival, which was held last month.

He decided the festival would be the ideal opportunity to raise money for the Addenbrooke's Charitable Trust (ACT) as a way of thanking the doctors and nurses who cared for him, and a total of £900 was raised. The money is being split equally between both units.

Mr Wilson said: "I felt that the beer festival was an ideal opportunity to raise some money for the hospital and hope that the £450 each can be used to buy facilities for the family room in the ICU and the day room in ward D10.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Raffle raises £378 for charity

A FESTIVE raffle has raised almost £400 for the Lisa Barnes Memorial Fund.

A special Christmas Chocolate prize donated by Cherry Hill Chocolates of Ely was raffled by staff at the Co-operative Food store in Wisbech Road, Littleport, in the run up to Christmas. Almost 200 tickets were sold and a total of £378 was raised, which has now been presented to Robert Barnes, founder of the fund.

Event to allow girls to shine!

MANICURES, massages and jewellery making will be among the activities on offer at a girls-only event in Ely.

Ely RAW is holding its annual 'Shine' event for girls aged 11-17 on Saturday.

Girls from across the region – and further afield – attend each year and the theme this year is 'Your Way'.

Running at both the Lighthouse Centre and the Countess Free Church, in Chapel Street, there will be a whole host of pamper activities, including make-up, hair styling and manicures, as well as activities which will encourage participants to make the most of their opportunities.

Zoe Davidson, one of the main organisers, said: "Our theme is 'Your Way', and we'll be looking at the choices we all face, making good decisions and making the most of our opportunities.

"We'd love to see as many girls from the area as possible."

It is running from 10am-4pm and the cost is £10 each. Call Zoe on 07712 653299.

People can't say Ely...

THE city of Ely is the most commonly mispronounced word in Britain, according to a study.

A survey of the most difficult words to pronounce was commissioned by London railway station St Pancras International and revealed that 59 per cent of British people pronounce it wrong.

It makes it the most commonly mispronounced word, closely followed by the West Yorkshire town of Keighley, which 40 per cent of people cannot say properly.

The most common mispronunciation of Ely is 'Ee-Lie' instead of 'Ee-Lee', according to the study.

The top 10 most mispronounced words, from one to 10 are: Ely, Keighley, sherbet, etcetera, St Pancras, espresso, bruschetta, often, prescription and Greenwich.

Plans for 100 new homes progress

MAJOR plans to build 100 new homes in Haddenham have moved a step closer.

Cheshire-based firm Gladman Developments Ltd wants to build on land south of number 18, Wilburton Road, and a screening opinion was submitted to East Cambridgeshire District Council earlier this year.

A screening opinion sees planners telling the developers what supporting evidence they want if and when a formal planning application is submitted, such as environmental/archaeological surveys.

Gladman have been told such surveys will not be required and now a formal planning application has been submitted.

As well as the 100 new homes, bosses want to build a children's play area and public space on the eight-acre site. The firm says 30 per cent of the new properties would be affordable housing.

Gladman is also awaiting the result of a screening opinion it submitted for 99 homes to be built in nearby Wilburton. A decision on the Haddenham plans could be made within eight weeks. To have your say, visit www.eastcambs.gov.uk.

New tattoo studio plans are approved

PLANS to open a new tattoo parlour in Soham have been given the green light.

Richard Foy applied to East Cambridgeshire District Council to change the use of 8A, High Street, formerly Swifts Dry Cleaners, into a tattoo studio.

Despite Soham Town Council being concerned that there is already a tattoo shop in High Street, the proposals have been approved. Mr Foy says the new studio will create two jobs.

Mrs Melody hits the high notes

A WOMAN who combines her passions for music and love of teaching children is celebrating her first year in business.

Ali Driver, from Ely, launched her 'Mrs Melody' business last March and since then has worked with more than 40 nurseries, pre-schools and primary schools across Cambridgeshire.

She not only uses musical instruments, puppets and imaginative props to help children of all abilities to communicate through music, but also runs private Mrs Melody birthday parties.

Ali said: "I've had an amazing first year and I'd like to thank everyone for their support.

"I've had the pleasure of teaching children from a range of backgrounds and some with learning and behavioural difficulties, all of which has enriched my understanding of teaching children and proven to me that all children can communicate through music whatever their ability level." Visit www.mrsmelody.co.uk for more information.

Exhibition to celebrate success of local artist

THE work of local artist Ted Coney is the focus of a new exhibition in Ely.

Ted, 69, spent more than 30 years as Head of Art and Design at Hills Road in Cambridge before retiring in 2005.

Since then he has been running popular pop-up galleries from his 300-year-old home in Waterside, Ely.

To celebrate Ted's success over the years, the city's Babylon Gallery – located just a stone's throw from his home – is hosting an exhibition of some of his best work from the last four decades.

A spokeswoman for the Babylon Gallery said: "This spring, we are delighted to present a retrospective of Ted's work divided into four predominant themes: Birth and Death, Family Traditions, Women and Secrets.

"From his first painting, 'Life Cycle' (1969) to 'If The Boats Come In', completed in 2013, this retrospective is a celebration of family relationships in all their joyful complexity; tender, compassionate and life-affirming."

The exhibition, entitled 'Ted Coney - A Retrospective', opens on Saturday and will run until Sunday, April 20.

The gallery is open every day from 12-4pm and entry is free. Visit www.adec.org.uk or www.tedconeysfamilyportraits.co.uk.

Increasing pressure on PO

THE Mayor of Ely and her fellow city councillors are demanding a fortnightly update on progress being made to find permanent premises for the post office.

JORDAN DAY

The city's mayor, Cllr Elaine Griffin-Singh, says the current situation is "not satisfactory" and that city councillors recognise the "inconvenience" residents are experiencing.

Since November, Ely's post office has been operating out of a portable building in Newnham Street car park.

The plan was to move the branch inside the Premier Convenience Store in High Street, but that move was axed as a public consultation revealed there would not be enough room for both facilities. Bosses at Post Office Ltd say they are working "extremely hard" to find a permanent solution.

But members of the City of Ely Council are now putting extra pressure on the company to rectify the situation.

Cllr Griffin-Singh said: "City of Ely Council members are keen for the public to know that the situation with regard to the Post Office in Ely is a major cause of concern to the council.

"At the last full council meeting, it was agreed that a fortnightly status update would be requested from Post Office. To date, these updates have been forthcoming and the council are monitoring progress and will review the situation at each meeting.

"It is understood that Post Office have received interest from third parties following a number of advertisements and that potential operators are being investigated.

"The council recognises the inconvenience being caused to the community and that the current situation is not satisfactory and will continue to put pressure on the service provider to rectify the situation.

"It is hoped that any future provision will be better than in previous years and worthy of the historic city of Ely and our community."

LOVE AND ART: Sally Reilly and Roger Coleman setting up the exhibition

Couple's talents on show

A COUPLE with a passion for art are exhibiting their work in Ely.

Talented ceramicist Sally Reilly and her husband, Roger Coleman, a photographer, are showcasing their work at the Old Fire Engine House, in St Mary's Street, throughout March.

Sally, who lives with her husband in Soham, is exhibiting her bowls, vases and lidded pots, which are inspired by her connections with Paris and the cultures and ceramic traditions of both the UK and France.

Roger's photography reflects regional differences and the journey between one and the other, focusing on the detail of place and moments in time.

The gallery is open every day. Call (01353) 662582 for details.

Concern over village plans

OPPOSITION is mounting against plans to build 50 new homes and a doctor's surgery in the village of Stretham.

JORDAN DAY

Stretham and Wilburton Community Land Trust's proposals to develop land at Manor Farm, which lies east of Meadowcroft, might be welcomed by some, but others are concerned.

The main objections lodged with East Cambridgeshire District Council so far relate to the proposed new access road via Plantation Gate.

Alicia Taylor, of Plantation Gate, said: "This proposed new road would be far too narrow to support the increased volumes of traffic.

"It will make the road untenable for use by the pedestrians who currently use it. It is not wide enough to support the necessary footpath and cycle lane, as well as a road wide enough for vehicles."

Joy Sennitt, of Newmarket Road, said: "I feel concern for Plantation Gate residents who have never had to deal with traffic of any consequence.

"The children will no longer be allowed out to play in what is, and always has been, a safe environment - why subject them to any traffic?"

As well as the new homes, 15 of which would be affordable, the proposals also involve building a new doctor's surgery, three small starter business units and open space. To have your say, visit www.eastcambs.gov.uk.

Four counts of assault

A MAN has been accused of sexually assaulting three women in Ely over a period of two years.

Colin Hakin, of Grimshoe Road, Downham Market, appeared at Cambridge Magistrates' Court last Tuesday accused of four counts of sexual assault.

Hakin, 51, pleaded not guilty to all the offences and the case was committed to crown court. He was due to appear at Cambridge Crown Court yesterday for a preliminary hearing.

BEST STROKE: Chris Bowns swam the equivalent of 2.5km to raise money and awareness for HCPT The Pilgrimage Trust

Sailor takes the plunge for trust

A SAILOR has raised almost £200 for charity by completing a mammoth swimming challenge.

Chris Bowns, from Ely, who is an engineering technician weapon engineering (ETWE) submariner, swam 2.5km at HMS Collingwood to support HCPT The Pilgrimage Trust, which is a charity which offers respite breaks to disabled and disadvantaged people in the UK and further afield.

Chris, who only learnt to swim two years ago after finding out it was a requirement to join the Royal Navy, completed the 76-length challenge in 1 hour and 15 minutes, and has raised £190 for the trust to date through sponsorship.

Opticians plans are approved

BUILDING work to transform a former cafe into an opticians started just days after the proposals were given the green light.

JORDAN DAY

Workmen have moved into the former Starbucks premises on the corner of Ely High Street around a week after East Cambridgeshire District Council approved plans to turn it into a Boots Opticians.

The proposals, submitted in December, have proved controversial among local people.

While some residents welcomed news that the premises, which have stood empty for around 18 months, looked set to re-open, others insisted another opticians was the "last thing" Ely needs – especially seeing it is next to Specsavers.

One complainant, Juliette Ausden, of Fieldside, Ely, said: "Yet again plans are submitted for something which Ely really doesn't need.

"We have plenty of opticians in the city centre and for Boots to want to open one right next door to Specsavers is ludicrous."

As previously reported, the town centres team at the district council were also worried that market stallholders could be affected by the renovation.

But approving the proposals, Giles Hughes, the council's head of planning, said: "The application has been approved as it is broadly in accord with the policies of the Local Plan, and it represents a high quality of development that can be considered as 'sustainable'.

"The policies themselves have been sufficiently explicit to guide the submitted application so that acceptable plans and information have been provided, and an approval has been forthcoming."

Bosses at Boots say renovating the premises into an opticians will complement the services Boots offers from its existing store in Ely's Market Place.

It is believed the new opticians will open this spring/summer.

WATCHING THEM GROW: Some of the youngsters planting the trees

Hugh donates fruit trees to pre-school

CHILDREN will soon be able to get some of their five-a-day by simply wandering out onto a neighbouring playing field.

Mepal and Witcham Pre-school has received a donation of four large fruit trees; two apple, one pear and one plum, from Channel 4 chef Hugh Fearnley-Whittingstall.

The youngsters donned their wellies and helped to plant the trees on Mepal and Witcham Primary School's playing field.

A pre-school spokeswoman said: "Paul Young from Sutton Tree Services volunteered his time free of charge and not only assisted the youngsters in setting up their crop for a healthy harvest, but has also offered to look after the trees and carry out any maintenance required.

"The children, who are very keen on healthy eating, really enjoyed the digging, stamping down and watering."

Eel Festival to be best to date

JORDAN DAY

ELY'S Eel Festival celebrates its 10th anniversary this year – and organisers are promising it will be bigger and better than ever before.

This year's extravaganza, held every year to celebrate Ely's heritage and connection with the humble eel, is taking place from Friday, May 2, right the way through to Monday, May 5.

And a whole host of new attractions are being added to the programme. Among the highlights this year will be:

■ An eel food safari, which will see restaurants and cafés producing festival dishes and menus such as eel-shaped biscuits, eel bread and slippery eel cocktails. Participating venues will display a special logo to show they are part of the promotion throughout the weekend.

■ A city centre eel-throwing competition on the Market Place. City centre retailers and businesses will be battling it out to be crowned 'City Centre Eel Throwing Business of the Year' – sponsored by the Ely Chamber of Commerce. No eels will be harmed in this competition – they are really stuffed socks.

■ A food and drink festival on Palace Green. This new event, supported by G's Fresh, will see a fantastic line-up of chef demonstrations running throughout the festival with some well-known names soon to be announced.

■ Ely street musicioners' muster will see the city centre come alive with a variety of period music being performed by costumed musicians who have been awarded their 'Warrant of Entitlement' to busk.

■ 'Market Street food fayre' – to complement Ely's Saturday shopping experience, the Ely craft market weekly street food aisle will transform with special offers and promotions.

■ All the usual fun of the festival will also be taking place, including the annual Ely Day Parade and a full programme of events in Jubilee Gardens including folk music, eel pottery workshops, dancing, historical displays and re-enactments.

Tracey Harding, tourism team leader at East Cambridgeshire District Council, is urging businesses or organisations who want to get involved with the celebrations to get in touch sooner rather than later.

For more information, call the council on (01353) 665555 or go to www.visitely.org.uk.

New website brings county's history to life

MEMORIES of corn dollies, Molly dancing and witchcraft are kept alive on a new website.

The pages have been created by the Enid Porter's Folk project, which aims to bring the folk history of Cambridgeshire to life for a new generation using the notebooks of the Museum of Cambridge's first curator.

The work has been funded by a £60,000 grant from the Heritage Lottery Fund and is being led by Cambridgeshire County Council, working with communities in Whittlesford, Haddenham, Swaffham Prior, Littleport and Wisbech.

Cllr David Harty, the county council's cabinet member for learning, said: "The new project website provides plenty of interest for anyone keen to learn more about Cambridgeshire culture and it allows people to share stories they may have heard or even personal recollections they may have." Visit www.enidporter.org.uk.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Tim Law feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Cambridge, Ely, Saffron Walden, Haverhill, Royston & Newmarket areas and Tim is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Tim a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Circus of Horrors

Circus of Horrors, Cambridge Corn Exchange, Thursday, March 20 at 7.30pm. Tickets £18-£25 from (01223) 357851 / cornex.co.uk

"LIKE The Rocky Horror Show on acid," said Amanda Holden.

The only way to find out how accurate an interpretation that is, is seeing The Circus of Horrors yourself. The Britain's Got Talent finalists are rolling into town, minus a big top, to wow, awe and stun.

Their latest show, London after Midnight (based on a lost film of the same name) is, according to its performers, "a rock 'n'roller coaster of a show that flies like a bat out of hell". Clearly they're over excited...

What sideshows and death-defying stunts should you expect? Well, there will be:

- sword swallowers
- daredevil balancing acts
- Herculean women hanging from their hair
- a demon dwarf strong man
- a pickled person
- astounding aerial acts
- twisted contortionists
- fire limbo-ing acrobats
- five murders (for dramatic effect, don't fret)
- the bubonic plague
- the Great Fire of London

No, this isn't your average plate-throwing circus that just clowns around. First formed at Glastonbury in 1995 this troupe of adrenaline junkies are set to make you gasp, whoop and shield your eyes in horror. Let's hope it'll be as spectacular as it sounds, and that nothing goes wrong...

Fairy tale fivesome

THE Overtones are chiselled, smartly stubbled with slicked back hair and twinkly eyes. Basically, they're the kind of boys that have Michael Buble a tad worried and will make your mum go weak at the knees…

Fortunately, they've got voices as impressive as their faces. Made up of Cork-born Timmy Matley, Mancunian Mark Franks and Aussie Lachie Chapman (the mid-harmony singers), Bristol bass Mike Crawshaw and falsetto Essex boy Daz Everest, the vocal harmony five-piece were discovered in quite a magical way.

They were all just having a bit of a sing-a-long on their tea break while working as decorators near Oxford Street in 2010. Next thing they know, they're being chatted up by a Warner Bros talent scout, are donning suits and ties, and seeing their debut album, Good 'Ol Fashioned Love, waltzing into Number 4 in the charts. Then they went and performed at the Queen's Diamond Jubilee. Oh, it could be a fairy tale.

The group cover vintage classics and are currently touring with their third album, Saturday Night at the Movies, stopping off at Cambridge Corn Exchange.

On the night they'll be re-mastering Oh, Pretty Woman, sweeping through Blues Brothers' classic Shake A Tail Feather, and whipping up Do You Love Me. Plus, they'll be joined by MOBO-award winning Beverley Knight on Hit The Road Jack (hopefully they'll let her out to do a bit more than just that though).

You'll be singing, dancing and swooning along. Just don't go fainting on them, they're not the grown-up One Direction you know.

■ The Overtones, Cambridge Corn Exchange, Monday, March 17 at 7.30pm. Tickets £28.50 - £38.50 (01223) 357851 / cornex.co.uk

Sounds of brass as colliery band heads for the Guildhall

WITH a tongue-in-cheek, yet respectful, nod to the great tradition of British brass bands, Hackney Colliery Band re-invent the genre and mine nuggets of Funk and Hip-Hop from the musical coalface and throw in a few chunks of Ska and Balkan brass for good measure, creating an energetic style which always gets the audience dancing.

The band will be playing tracks from their new critically acclaimed album 'Common Decency' but expect old favourites like 'Inner City Life', 'No Diggity' and their infamous Prodigy Medley too.

Over the past two years the band have earned themselves an army of loyal fans and have played at some very special events. From live collaborations with the late Amy Winehouse and more recently Eliza Doolittle plus being the only fully live band to play at the Closing Ceremony of the London 2012 Olympics.

Hackney Colliery Band at Cambridge Guildhall, Market Place, Cambridge. Saturday, 22nd March. Tickets: £12.50. Box Office: Corn Exchange 01223 357 851 or on-line via www.cornex.co.uk

NEED FOR SPEED
certificate 12A, 2h10m

INSPIRED by a series of video games in which players get behind the wheel of souped-up motors, Need For Speed accelerates smoothly into the slipstream of The Fast And The Furious and its high-octane pretenders.

Director Scott Waugh puts the pedal to the metal from the turbo-charged opening which establishes a rivalry between the cash-strapped protagonist (Aaron Paul) and his cocksure rival (Dominic Cooper) that drives the narrative to its predictably tragic resolution.

The story centres on car mechanic Tobey Marshall (Paul), who runs his father's garage but is struggling to make ends meet so he relies on prize money from illegal street races.

Aided by his team comprising Benny (Kid Cudi), Joe (Ramon Rodriguez), Finn (Rami Malek) and Little Pete (Harrison Gilbertson), Tobey is king of the road until a race against Dino Brewster (Cooper) ends in an inferno.

Tobey is arrested and sentenced to time behind bars for a crime he did not commit while Dino walks away untarnished by suspicion.

Two years later Tobey is released and swears revenge against Dino by competing against his nemesis in a legendary race organised by the enigmatic Monarch (Michael Keaton).

He borrows a turbo-charged vehicle and agrees to take car dealer Julia Maddon (Imogen Poots) in the passenger seat as insurance. Sparks of sexual attraction fly between Tobey and Julia, complicating his relationship with old flame Anita (Dakota Johnson).

Need For Speed is neither as deliriously fast nor furious as the films it hopes to emulate.

Director Waugh choreographs some slick set pieces including pursuits around city streets and a daredevil airborne escape but there are few surprises in George Gatins's simplistic and linear script.

Paul attempts to jumpstart his big screen career off the back of the TV series Breaking Bad and he is extremely likable in a woefully malnourished role. His deep, growling voice cuts through the squealing brakes and crashes of passing motorists, who are in the wrong place at the wrong time.

Cooper is far less impressive as the slippery antagonist, whose greed, recklessness and overinflated ego bring about his downfall. He is insipid and not remotely menacing.

British rising star Imogen Poots continues her ascent with a spirited and eye-catching supporting performance as a ballsy car broker, who proves she's much more than a pretty face.

Take care of your lawn

IF THE recent rain means your luscious, closely-cropped carpet of green is now nothing but a soggy bog, you might be feeling a bit downhearted.

But don't despair, say the experts, there is still hope for your languishing lawn.

Guy Jenkins, Johnsons lawn seed expert, firstly advises to just give it time.

"Don't rush to work on your lawn as soon as the water has subsided," he says. "Treading on wet, saturated soil will easily result in compaction, reducing your lawn's aeration and drainage even further. Only sow seed after the ground has become workable again."

by Hannah Stephenson

Sometimes though, the only real option is to start again; if your lawn suffers from consistent waterlogging, or is covered in moss or has bare, muddy patches. Jenkins says sorting out a proper drainage system and sowing trusted grass seed will save you time and money later. On a poorly drained site where water lies on the surface at times, land drains are the only solution. If in doubt, seek professional advice.

When water simply won't drain away, the RHS advises that you may have to replace the lawn with a new one, using turf laid on a 5cm (2in) bed of sharp sand, overlaid with topsoil improved by generous manuring and thorough cultivation.

Smaller lawns on heavy clay soil can frequently be drained by raising them slightly above the adjoining ground level. A gravel edging to the lawn will carry away excess moisture.

When a lawn lies wet for any length of time, damp conditions encourage algae, lichens and liverworts. This includes bubble-like Nostoc algae and dog lichen. They both flourish in badly-drained lawns but can develop wherever the aeration is poor and may even appear on well-drained turf if the surface has become compacted and is inclined to remain damp after rain.

Algae also thrives in shaded conditions and where soil fertility is poor, so it's frequently found on turf beneath trees. Moss is a common sight where conditions are damp, but particularly if there is shade and an acid soil.

Pricking or slitting the surface can improve a waterlogged lawn, the RHS adds. Try making 2-3cm (1in) slits or holes, although deeper| spiking is better, especially with a tool designed to leave holes 10-15cm (4-6in) deep. These holes can be filled with a free-draining material, such as proprietary lawn top dressings or horticultural sand, which will allow the water to flow from the surface to deeper, less compacted layers.

Hand spiking tools are available but an ordinary garden fork can be used too. Alternatively, for larger lawns, use powered tools. Try a hollow tiner, which has hollow spikes and removes plugs of soil that are then swept up and removed. Pricking and slitting are best carried out once the excess water has drained away, especially where machinery is to be used. In small areas where standing water persists, sweep it off the lawn and into the beds before spiking with a hand spiking tool or garden fork.

Once you've cleared the latest mess, it is also important to consider the root of the problem and hopefully prevent it happening again. For example, do you live in an urban area, at the bottom of a valley or flood plain, or on top of heavy clay?

"All of these factors can affect how your lawn copes with excess rainfall," says Jenkins. "In urban areas, water flows over pavements and patios, with the extra surface run-off resulting in flooding. Simply by keeping a well-maintained lawn, providing somewhere for water to drain away, we can all do our bit to prevent flood damage."

If you plan to sow a new lawn this spring, raking soil over to form a fairly fine tilth should ensure optimum germination rates, but only do it when the soil is dry enough to work.

Heavy rain washes nutrients out of the soil, so to help encourage new grass, apply a lawn fertiliser or buy grass seed which includes fertiliser or dressing, so that it can grow more extensive root systems better able to withstand drought and flooding.

Fudge for charity

A SPECIAL fudge is now on sale in Ely to help raise funds for a local charity.

Mother and daughter Louise Mortimer and Jes Gingell, who opened Roly's Fudge Pantry on Ely's Market Place last summer, have chosen Littleport-based charity Branching Out, which works with local people with learning disabilities and additional needs, as its charity of the year.

The decision was made after much debate and response through their Facebook page.

A whole host of fundraising ideas are now being discussed but a special 'charity fudge' has already been created to raise funds.

Apprentices lead the way

TWO apprentices are quickly learning the skills of the renewable energy industry thanks to a special partnership.

Heating, plumbing and renewable energy specialists, Eco Installer, based in Sutton, is signed up to the Cambridge Regional College Apprenticeship Scheme and currently has two apprentices in its team.

Liam Roberts joined the team in 2013 and works with the firm four days a week. Jack Minett joined in 2012 and can already complete installs by himself.

Last week was National Apprenticeship Week (March 3-7) and Roland Gurner, the firm's managing director, is urging more businesses to taken on apprentices.

JORDAN DAY

He said: "We are delighted to be part of the Cambridge Regional College Apprenticeship Scheme and promoting the benefits of National Apprenticeship Week.

"We have two apprentices in our team who are actively working on our traditional and renewable heating projects. From assisting with the installation of a condensing boiler to the latest renewable systems such as Biomass, our apprentices understand the benefits of each technology and the difference they can make to the environment.

"Four of our directors are successful entrepreneurs today because of the nurturing they received during their time in the scheme years ago and in just three years of operation we are delighted to be in the position to help develop local talent."

For information about the scheme, visit www.camre.ac.uk/apprenticeships. For information about Eco Installer, visit www.ecoinstaller.net.

Magazine Sales Manager

We are looking for a dynamic and results focused sales manager for our growing portfolio of magazines.

The recently launched Cambridge Magazine and the increased frequency of Cambridge Business to meet growing market demand are the start of an exciting expansion strategy.

Reporting directly to the Director of Magazines, the key responsibilities of the role include:

Sales and publishing:

- Meeting agreed revenue and profit targets. Taking on key clients personally.
- Agree annual feature and 'specials' lists with the director and editor
- Liaise with editorial, production and distribution to deliver successful magazines
- Report punctually and accurately activity, revenue and market
- Sign off all magazines prior to print

Staff:

- Set monthly revenue targets, activity performance criteria and KPI's
- Address performance issues immediately and resolve satisfactorily
- Manage and when necessary recruit staff members
- Develop the magazine team to ensure optimum use of time

Strategic:

- Defining and executing publishing plans for existing titles with the Director of Magazines
- Suggest new launch potential and help construct business plans
- Helping to define the enhanced digital offering of the printed products
- Work within agreed publishing and project deadlines

The role will be based in Cambridge but not restricted to the city location.
No magazine experience is necessary, as full training will be given to the successful candidate.
An excellent salary and commission is available in line with the importance of this role.
If you believe you are ready to take on this exciting and high profile role, please request an application from Paul Gibson, email: paul.gibson@localworld.co.uk

Closing date: 28th March 2014

We encourage applications from all walks of life and all applications will be considered on merit. Cambridge Museum of Technology - Curator

Cambridge Museum of Technology is embarking on a major programme of conservation and refurbishment, supported by the Heritage Lottery Fund, including a comprehensive collections review and a new museum event and display space. We are now seeking to recruit the first of three new posts.

The museum is based in the Victorian pumping station on Riverside, and contains the last surviving examples globally of some Victorian technologies such as waste destructors and pumping engines. The collections include technology from a wide range of Cambridge industries including Pye, The Cambridge Scientific Instrument Company, and the printing industry.

The museum occupies a significant site, which will be extensively developed over the next few years, with improvements to visitor facilities, access and interpretation.

Curator

The Curator will be the most senior museum professional, responsible for the collections, conservation management, events, learning and partnership activities.

Educated to degree level, and preferably with a qualification in museum studies, you will have extensive experience of museum collections, industrial heritage and partnership working. You will have strong interpersonal and organisational skills, excellent reporting and presentation skills, be capable of working both independently and in teams, and be comfortable working with information technology.

The post holder will manage the education officer and community engagement coordinator, to be appointed following this post.

Closing date for applications: April 10th, 2014.

Duo strike to book Littleport last-eight spot

CHARLIE Smith and Max Wright hit two apiece as Littleport Town beat March 5-3 after extra time in the Cambridge & District Colts League Cup quarter-finals.

Harry Morton added Littleport's other goal.

Josh Lowe's double, plus one from Blaize Gleeson and a George Rayner penalty helped Haddenham Rovers maintain their position at the top of 15A with a well-fought 4-2 victory over Fulbourn Falcons.

Imps are on the rise as Soham get bashed

IMPINGTON I moved into first place in Ely & District League, Division One thanks to a 9-1 triumph over Soham.

Soham's aspirations were blighted by only having two players, with their only point coming from Andreas Elia, who beat Helen Arnold in three sets, the first being won by way of a hard-fought deuce.

Impington's Jan Hryca and Li Wu Wei won their singles – although Li needed five sets against Elia – then combined to take the doubles.

Mark Lillyman led Soham Comrades I with a quiet confidence that resulted in wins over Terry Lane and Peters Zivtins when they entertained Fulbourn I.

He was undone, however, by Marc Meunier, who showed a commendable return to form.

The Comrades' points tally grew as Nathan Stewart overcame Meunier and Zivtins, but Lane resisted his thrust and also beat James Nicholls.

In the doubles, Comrades took the first two legs but Fulbourn took the third from deuce and won the fourth. From being 6-1 and 10-8 down in the fifth, Meunier and Zivtins conjured a win to force the draw.

Peter Goatly won his three singles for Elsworth I against Fulbourn III, although he was taken to five by Peter Xie.

Roger Fensom contributed two more and was denied a third by Nigel Bates. Jim Reary finished off a miserable night for Joe Thorogood, who had previously gone down 12-10 in the fifth to Xie, and Fulbourn took the doubles 11-9 in the fifth to claim the draw.

Ely I enjoyed a convincing win over Fulbourn II when Hugo Brown and Andrew Maguire each won three against Hamish Ryder, Jim Reary and Xie, with the latter enabling Fulbourn to avert the whitewash when he accounted for Ashley Rowe. Fulbourn almost added to their tally in the doubles, but Ely scraped home in a nail-biting finish.

In Division Two, NCI kept up the chase at the top of the table with a 9-1 thrashing of Elsworth II.

The Elsworth trio of Richard Smart, Colin Fotland and Bill Knibbs could not prevent Howard Morley and Kelvin Mitchell gaining maximums and Colin Taylor contributing two more. Mitchell and Taylor won the doubles in three against Fotland and Knibs.

Joanne Pettitt won her three singles for front-runners Ellesmere 1, Rhys Davies won two and Aldo Galea won one as they beat Impington III 6-4.

For the Imps, Jeff Catlin won two and Colin Adams won one before combining to win the doubles in four close sets.

Adam Speed notched up three wins for Soham Comrades III, despite breaking his bat, with David Leek and Howard Leek responding for Fulbourn IV, and the match eventually ended in another draw.

Talented runner Parker receives England call-up

HOLLIE Parker has been selected to run for England after winning the silver medal at the English Athletics Age Group Championships in Sheffield.

Parker, 17, has recorded the fastest 1,500m time so far for the under-20 age group this season, running 4min 35.22sec despite being one of the youngest runners in the age group.

International: Hollie Parker has been selected for England.

A Year 12 student at King's Ely, Parker's impressive performance followed on from her win at the Cambridgeshire Schools Cross Country Championships and fourth place finish at the British Athletics Grand Prix.

Parker is due to compete for England in the under-20 internationals in Cardiff.

Richard Powell, head of athletics at King's Ely, said: "Hollie is gaining in confidence all the time which, allied to her ability and dedication, has resulted in improved times and consistently impressive performances."

Ely rock Rockets

ELY'S first team defeated Division Three leaders Rockets Ice 30-27 in their penultimate game of the winter league.

Ely settled into the match and had a slim lead at the break, but Rockets regrouped and made it level pegging at half time.

In what is usually Ely's worst quarter, they kept the pressure on with the defensive trio of Alison Crombie, Victoria Cutforth and Celeste Gordon intercepting Rockets attacks, much to their frustration.

It was neck and neck throughout the last quarter, with Ely shooting pair Janice Quarrier and Anita Reidy keeping their heads under pressure to pull Ely into the lead.

The centre court pairing of Sue Tune and Debbie Knott led the attack to keep Ely ahead.

Football: Thurlow Nunn League

Townsend at the double as City victorious

BRADY Stone hailed Ely's performance after they recorded a 3-1 win away to fellow Thurlow Nunn League, Premier Division strugglers Diss Town.

Josh Townsend continued his good form on return from injury with two goals, while Austen Diaper got the other for Ely.

It was the first win since Stone and player-assistant Ben Lawrence took charge of the side after the departure of Alan Alsop last month.

And Stone was delighted with how his team performed.

"It was a really strong performance from start to finish," he said.

"The only criticism I would have was it should have been more, but I'm happy with three goals and three points."

The win means Ely are now six points clear of the bottom two as they head into the final nine games of the season.

They face the side just a point ahead of them, FC Clacton, this Saturday.

And after that they have games against the two below them in the table, Wivenhoe Town and Woodbridge Town.

With that in mind, Stone believes they are more than capable of securing their status.

"We've got a big game against Clacton on Saturday and we've still got games against Wivenhoe and Woodbridge, so it's still in our own hands," said Stone.

"If we win these games then we will be clear of the relegation zone."

On target: Austen Diaper helped Ely to a 3-1 win over Diss Town.

Bonus point win keeps Ely on track

ELY kept their hopes of promotion alive in Greene King IPA Eastern Counties One by extending their winning run to four games in a 34-5 triumph over Swaffham.

The win keeps the Tigers in third place in the division, although they are still nine points behind leaders Newmarket heading into the final three games.

After spending much of the opening 10 minutes camped in Swaffham's 22, the home side broke through when Charlie Coupland finished off a good team move.

Skipper John Dibb got Ely's second and they were able to get another before half time when Adam Chapman finished off after Coupland had made the break.

The bonus point was secured early in the second half when Ricky Neale was driven over after Ely had won a line-out inside Swaffham's 22 against the throw.

Swaffham did manage to get a consolation try, but there was still time for Ely to grab two more tries.

The first came when winger Coupland powered through to score, stepping his opposite number before shaking off an attempted tackle from the Swaffham full-back to dot down.

Then, from the restart, Ely regained possession and Chapman burst through several tacklers to go over.

Football: Ryman League

Soham edged out by single from Newson

A SINGLE strike from Sam Newson was enough to condemn Soham to a 1-0 defeat away to Needham Market in Ryman League, North Division on Tuesday night.

It was a match where neither side created many chances and the first half finished goalless.

However, a neat one-two led to Newson squeezing a shot underneath Greens keeper Enol Ordonez with 15 minutes remaining.

Luke Stanley went close for Soham and James McCabe had a shot tipped over in the closing stages, but they could not force an equaliser.

"We're disappointed," said Soham boss Steve Fallon.

"On another day, Enol might have saved the goal.

"It's a game that had 0-0 written all over it and both sides cancelled each other out.

"One or two of the lads looked a bit tired out there. We did OK, but it just wasn't our night."

The defeat comes after Soham had got back to winning ways as they overcame Maldon & Tiptree 4-2 on Saturday.

Greens boss Fallon had been forced into a defensive reshuffle for the match, with Luke Little playing as a stand-in centre-half due to Nick Wilderspin suffering a knee injury.

Despite that, the hosts were in control during the first half and took the lead through Jordan Gent's 36th minute strike.

Buster Harradine doubled the lead from the penalty spot to put Soham 2-0 up at the interval.

However, Maldon put themselves back in contention through Leon McKenzie a minute after the restart.

Stanley put the result beyond doubt with a brace in the last 20 minutes, taking his tally to 33 goals for the season, before Maldon's Jack Stevenson slotted home a late penalty.

"It was a very good win," said Fallon.

"Even though they (Maldon) have slipped up a bit recently, they are still a good side and they've got some good players.

"We played really well in the first half, deserved to be 2-0 up at half time and stopped them from creating any chances.

"They started the second half well and scored, and then they hit the post which would have made it 2-2 and maybe it could have been different if that had gone in.

"But we've recovered from that and gone on to dominate the rest of the game, so it was a deserved win."

Soham face a trip to Waltham Abbey this Saturday.
